

Humble Noon Lions Club donates furniture to Including Kids

Jennifer Summer

July 1, 2016 Updated: Oct. 6, 2016 5:28 a.m.

Comments

The Humble Noon Lions Club donated the furniture in honor of longtime member, Tom Crowell, who passed away in December 2015. Tom's wife, Judy, and daughter, Beth, were on hand for the special presentation of a plaque bearing Tom's name which was donated to Including Kids Thursday, June 30, 2016.

As the group gathered around the television perched on a new entertainment center to play their favorite video game, "Just Dance," a few others watched with excitement while sitting on new couches and a recliner.

These furniture pieces were donated by the Humble Noon Lions Club to patrons at Including Kids as a set-up for the nonprofit's training apartment.

The Humble Noon Lions Club donated the furniture in honor of longtime member, Tom Crowell, who passed away in December 2015. Tom's wife, Judy, and daughter, Beth, were on hand for the special presentation of a plaque bearing Tom's name which was donated to Including Kids Thursday, June 30.

"Including Kids was one of Tom's favorite charities so it was an honor to present the plaque and donate the furniture," Humble Noon Lions member Tony Austin said.

The Atascocita-based Including Kids focuses on providing educational provides research-based behavioral intervention and instruction for children and young adults with autism and other related delays Through their programs they work to cultivate their learning and social skills to facilitate their inclusion.

The training apartment including the new couches, recliner and entertainment center donated by the Humble Noon Lions Club, helps provide training to the children and young adults with Autism know the functions and purpose of the furniture.

The training apartment also features a kitchen table, sink, fridge and other items one might find in an apartment.

For more information on the Humble Noon Lions Club, visit <http://www.humblenoonlions.com>

For more information on Including Kids, visit <http://includingkids.org/>